

HENRY PINARDI AT KANEGIS

The rectangular card reads "Introducing the paintings of Enrico Pinardi - first one man show Oct. 6 thru 31, Kanegis Gallery, 123 Newbury Street, Boston." This simple, direct statement represents an achievement that requires years of work and frustration for some and for others is never attainable. That this should happen while still a student shows a person of the highest artistic and aesthetic character.

Henry or "Hank" as he is known by everyone has previously worked with Angelo Carcie in ecclesiastical sculpture. He has worked in cathedrals in Baltimore and Washington and in the interior of St. Ignatius church in Chestnut Hill, plus many other churches in the local area. Henry was president of his class during the Freshman year and is now basketball coach of the team that won small college champions. In his Junior year he was recipient of the Royal Bailey Farnum Alumni scholarship. Henry is now a senior in the Teacher-Education department where he has shown himself to be one of the best exponents of contemporary art education. After graduation, he is considering further study in painting in Italy.

His exhibit was well received by the Boston critics and a commentary on his work in major national art magazines is forthcoming. The commentator's remarks show a recognition of Henry's deep understanding of the medium, subject matter, and visual expression.

Paul Laincz

HAYES

WOODARD

Mr. Hayes was a math major at the Southwest Texas Teacher's College until he transferred to M.C.A. He graduated from the painting department and received his master's degree from the Museum School and Tufts University.

Mr. Hayes served as a meteorologist in the Air Force. With a continued interest in the sciences, he is now developing a new fast-drying paint for artists.

Ron Hayes is greatly interested in Oriental Art, specifically the landscape painters of the Sung Dynasty.

Mr. Hayes now lives with his wife, Cynthia, an art historian, and their three month old son, Joshua.

Miss Cooper is a graduate of the Mass. College of Art. She has taught at the University of Maryland and at Boston University and was employed as director of the office of publicity at M.I.T. for five years.

The winner of a Fullbright Scholarship, Miss Cooper studied art in Milan, Italy. She now has her own studio of graphic design which prepares pamphlets, brochures, letterheads and the like for various organizations.

EDELSON

VAFEAS

Miss Cooper makes her home in Brookline.

We regret that we do not have a photograph of Miss Cooper.

Mr. Edelson studied at the Brooklyn College, the Brooklyn Museum, and the Art Students League in New York as well as at the Black Mountain College in North Carolina. Interested in graphics and modified realism, Mr. Edelson chose Picasso as one of his favorite painters.

Besides teaching at Mass. Art, Mr. Edelson also teaches at the Cambridge Center of Adult Education.

Both Mr. Edelson and his wife write plays; they are thinking of opening a summer theater on the cape where their plays will be presented.

The Edelsons live in Cambridge and have two small daughters.

The existence of a newspaper within the Massachusetts College of Art has many purposes. It will bring information, entertainment and hopefully, a greater unity between the various divisions within the college, including administration, student organizations and alumni. It will be a manifestation of the college and the people within its walls. It will represent their ideas, express their abilities, and respect the qualities of standard that they demand in themselves.

In few places, does there exist a group of people with a creative syndrome which distinguishes them in the manifold areas of art. In the syndrome, these people have many ideas, many solutions to problems with which they are faced. They seek to go beyond the everyday of the "safe" answer. These people strive for an elimination of the redundant and the mediocre. They seek without fear, the unique, the unusual coupled with the highest standard of achievement.

"L'Intaglio" shall be their voice and an overt manifestation of their outstanding creativity. It will show that the people here are not stereotyped as many laymen have conjured of those in the art fields. The newspaper will show the personality as it is here a syndrome of spirit, imagination and a desire for the highest standards attainable.

Paul Laincz

S.A. NEWS

If the enthusiasm for an attendance at the 1962 Masquerade Ball is any indication of things to come, S.A. will definitely have a wonderful year. The Ball was, of course, a huge success with at least 500 persons enjoying the evening. Congratulations to the award winners who are:

Funniest-Ray Brown
Most Artistic-Bob Charron & his guest

Most Original-The Four Winds,
Diane & Richard Kwiecinski, Kathleen Mello & Michael Welch.

Whereas the Ball is over, it's now time to get down to more serious things, such as:

Continued on next column

S.A. office hours are held every Thursday from 11:45-12:15. Any group or individual who wishes to contact the S.A. officers are invited to do so at that time.

Those divisions which have not been represented at meetings of the S.A. Board of Directors are requested to send an elected delegate and/or alternate to the regular meetings which are held on the first Monday of every month, at 3:15 in the cafeteria. May we remind you that every S.A. member is invited to participate in meetings.

Any member of the Sophomore, Junior or Senior class who has not received his 1961-1962 College Annual may pick it up at the S. A. office during office hours through Nov. 29th. After that date, any unclaimed Annuals will be distributed among the faculty.

The 1962-1963 Handbook is being printed at present. This means that it will be distributed earlier this year than ever before. The S.A. officers wish to thank Barry Schiller for his work as editor, Ruth Rankin for her cover design and Jim Hemenway for the photographs.

You may remember that the administration of the college has given to S.A. the responsibility of keeping the smoker in presentable condition. The S.A. Board of Directors therefore appeals to each student to do his share in accepting this responsibility by placing trash and cigarette butts in the proper receptacles. We also remind you that smoking is prohibited beyond the fire doors.

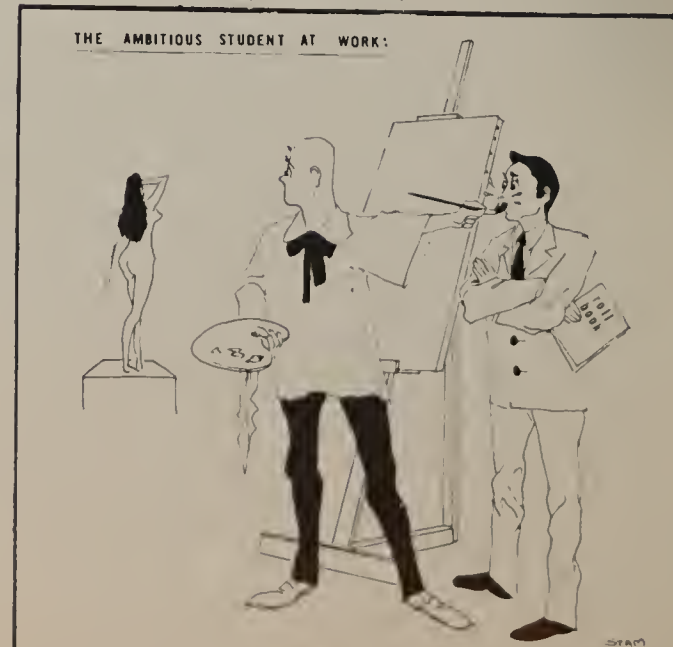

READING

Looking for some worth while reading? Dr. Coghlan suggested the following books:

1. Golding, Lord of the Flies
2. Moore, An Answer from Limbo
3. Salinger, Franny and Zooey
4. Sillitoe, The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner
5. Steinbeck, Travels with Charley
6. Tolkien, The Fellowship of the Ring
7. Updike, Rabbit, Run

ART-niks

by Jim Stamatielos

There were some changes made over the summer - perhaps a few secretly married couples, but no one is telling.

Happiness and Best Wishes to;

Anne Davis now Anne Judic

Carolyn Roche now Carolyn Conrad

-A switch in "fiance" was made by Alberta Pepin this summer.

-Maxine Gerson was pinned recently.

-Carol Ann Keeler has been pinned since last year.

-Alan Curtis and Mary Ann are said to be setting the date for August.

-We had a sophomore barbeque for those who attended. It was a great success, and here is the list of casualties.

-Ronnie Hornstein burnt herself with a flaming marshmellow

-Bob Monosky sprained his ankle and Linda Dibiase sprained her back. Good going kids!

-Maura Monahan and Marilyn Hurley will have fun at Annapolis I'm sure. Go NAVY!!!

Janice Wall is our Wednesday weather girl on TV's Channel 7.

Any special interest at Harvard Janice Irwin?

Kathy Zehnter

SPORTS

This year there is an extensive program for the basketball players and cheerleaders. The team under the direction of coach Henry Pinardi will be having their first game on November 27 at 7:00 p.m. in Newton. The second and third games respectively are to be held on November 30 in New Hampshire, and December 2 in Quincy. All games will be posted around the school to give ample notice to students who wish to attend the games.

The cheerleaders, under co-captain Cynthia Sheret and Florence Stickney, and assistant Susan Smith, have a busy year ahead. A tea was held for girls interested in meeting the cheerleaders and who planned on trying out for the squad. Notices were posted giving practice dates for new girls and tryouts will be held on November 10 in the cafeteria. This year the cheerleaders have megaphones to increase the volume of their voices.

Both the cheering squad and the team extend an invitation to one and all to participate as spectators at the games. We hope the team is well supported and that this year will be one of its most successful.

Cynthia Sheret

FOR SALE

Eight-piece Danish Modern dining room set. Still in the carton, this set has never been used. Owner forced to sell at half-price. For further information, contact the "Intaglio" office during the lunch period.

BAHAMA CRUISE
By Marilee McKeever

Last week the "Intaglio" asked me to write an article about my "Windjammer Cruise" in the Bahama Islands. It is difficult to know what to say, for to me it is still kind of a dream.

Last spring my girlfriend, Judy Kelley, and I were given the opportunity to go on this cruise and to write for the Boston and to write and illustrate a story for the Boston Traveler - needless to say we leaped at the chance. We flew to Bimini Island in the Bahamas on June 1, and that afternoon we boarded our ship, one of three that sail this cruise. The Mandaley, a hundred twenty foot Aeden Racing schooner was the most beautiful ship I have ever seen. I have been a sailing enthusiast for many years and I still found it hard to believe a ship like this actually existed!

The following morning we set out on a cruise that was to be the most unforgettable ten days in my life. Every day we were at another island. We visited eight different kinds of Paradise. One was a coral reef, inhabited only by the lighthouse keeper and his family, while another had just a handful of natives. I soon found how fast money can go, but I have never enjoyed going broke so much before.

I will never forget my cruise. The beautiful tropical islands, the coral reefs, and the blue of the water - and most of all the nights, under full sail beneath the stars, so close that you'd think you could touch them.

The ten days went by too fast and soon I was home again. But I know I have not seen the last of the Mandaley. Next summer I am going back and hope to work on the ship. I want to relive a dream again.

ADVERTISING?

Have you something to buy or sell? You can advertise free in the "Intaglio". Just leave the information at the "Intaglio" office (located on the first floor between the auditorium and the elevator).

LOCAL EVENTS

Symphony Hall -
Nov.14 Dietrich Fisher, 8:30 PM
18 Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra 3:00 PM
27 David Oistrach 8:30 PM
29 Mantovani, 8:30 PM

Donnelly Memorial Theatre -
Nov.30 Harry Belafonte(10 Days)

Loeb Drama Center -
Nov.15-24 "The Ghost Sonata"
5-15 "Love for Love"
Performance nightly except Sunday
All seats $1.50.

Schubert Theatre -
Nov.21-26 "Moby Dick"

Charles Playhouse -
Nov.1-25 "The Threepenny Opera"
28-Dec.24 "Hedda Gabler"

M.I.T. -
Nov.5-25 Exhibition of Paintings by young Italian artists

B.U. Art Gallery -
Nov.3-24 Art Exhibit - works of Gulian Levi, American Traditionalist.

Ford Hall Forum -
Nov.11 Owen Lattimore - "Between China & Russia: The Least known Frontier in the World."
18 Ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey "Ghana's Position in world affairs"
25 Justice Wm. O. Douglas - "Russia Today"
Dec.2 Geo. W. Coleman Memorial Meeting - An Evening with Robert Frost.
9 Dr. Margaret Mead
16 Ayn Rand.

REMEMBER
THE JUNIOR
DANCE!

November 16, 1962
The Parker House

"QUESTIONS and ANSWERS
FROM THE COLLEGE BOWL"

1. A famous painting by Gainsborough is called "Blue Boy." What twentieth-century artist painted a picture called "Blue Women"?
2. Shakespeare has one of his characters comment "Frailty, thy name is woman." Who says this and of whom is he thinking?
3. "Jehovah," Nuclear" and "Electra" can be used as adjectives. What do they describe?
4. What man was born in Pennsylvania, painted in the United States and England, constructed a submarine in Paris, and a steam warship for the United States Government?
5. Taught is the past participle of teach. And wrought is the past participle of what verb?

1. Pablo Picasso
2. Hamlet speaking of Queen Gertrude
3. Abnormal complexes
4. Robert Fulton
5. Work (of course, worked is also a past participle of work.)

A black and white line drawing of three people in an art studio. On the left, a woman with blonde hair sits on a stool, looking towards the center. In the middle, a woman with dark hair and a mustache stands, holding paintbrushes and a can of paint. On the right, a man with dark hair stands, holding a palette and a brush, looking towards the center. They are surrounded by easels with abstract paintings. The drawing is signed 'KERRY' in the bottom left corner.

Dr. Vafeas was born in Allequippa, Pennsylvania, and received his doctorate degree from the Penn. State University. He is the former State Director of Art in Delaware. In 1943-1945 he served in the Armed Forces in the United States as well as in Europe. Dr. Vafeas is a member of the National Art Education Association and Eastern Arts Association. One of Dr. Vafeas' foremost interests in art is sculpture, specifically, contemporary form in wood, marble, etc. Also interested in music and literature, Dr. Vafeas has had his poetry and essays published.

The show will run from Nov. 17 through Dec. 17.

I-S W-A-I-T-I-N-G F-O-R

R * I * C * K * Y

C * O * I * N

Publication of Massachusetts College of Art at Boston
Acme Printing Company, Everett

Editor-in-Chief Paul Laincz
Managing Editor Betsy Fouratt
Business Manager Robert Fruit

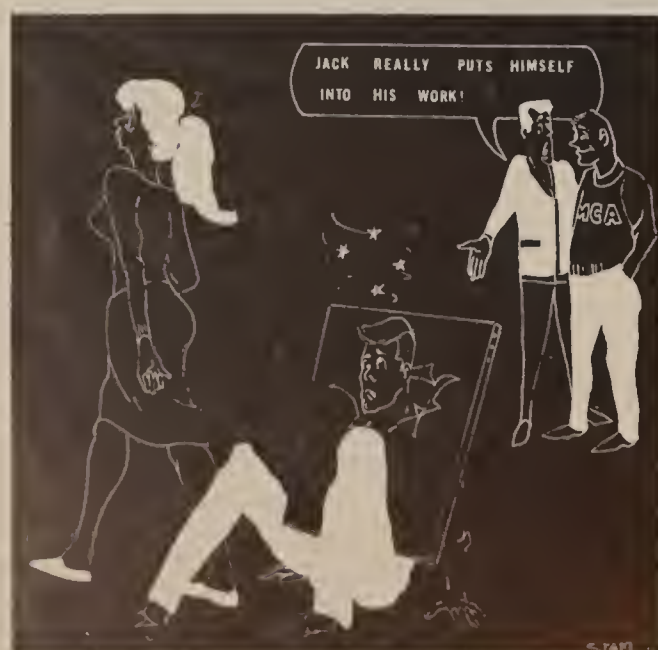

STAFF

Layout	Robert Stein (Director)
	James Stametelos
	Vasco Pires
Typists	Carol Gaff
	Harvey Levinson
	Sandra Doucette
	Dotty Frederick
	Tracy Vantilberg
	Shirley Price
	Margi Crawford
	Mary Bellizia

[illegible][illegible]

NOVEMBER 16
NOVEMBER 30
NOVEMBER 16
NOVEMBER 30
NOVEMBER 16
NOVEMBER 30

junior 16
sophomore 30
DANCE

Isn't top quality at the lowest possible price worth just a few minutes in line quart school associates inc.